Cookbook Supports Scholarship Fund for Cosmetology Students

Dallas, Texas - The American Association of Cosmetology Schools (AACS) and Salmon Sims Thomas are delighted and honored to co-sponsor a cookbook, Culinary Clips, with recipes provided by AACS members. Profits from cookbook sales will be given to the Pat Goins Scholarship fund for students. The fund helps deserving cosmetology students with tuition. Pat Goins was an educator who dedicated over 45 years to cosmetology education. She devoted herself to a career of improving the image and raising the standards of the cosmetology industry.

AACS member participation will make this cookbook interesting, fun and a worthy tribute to a woman who did so much to help the cosmetology industry. To submit a recipe, you need to be a member of the American Association of Cosmetology Schools and have a password and login name which can be obtained from by contacting Linda Howard lhoward@sstcpa.com or Jim Cox jim@beautyschools.org.

AACS is a national non-profit association open to all privately owned schools of Cosmetology Arts & Sciences. AACS specializes in updating their members with information about new teaching methods, current industry events, and Washington, DC updates. They do this through a series of seminars, conferences and conventions held throughout the year. For more information on AACS membership, go to www.beautyschools.org.

Headquartered in Dallas, Salmon Sims Thomas is a long-time member of AACS. The firm is one of the most respected and widely recognized accounting firms providing comprehensive accounting, tax, audit, compliance, and consulting services to career and cosmetology schools around the country.
