401k Insights in New Blog Provide Valuable Information for Plan Sponsors

January 5, 2010

Dallas, TX - Salmon Sims Thomas & Associates announced the launch of "the401kCPA.com" a website created for plan sponsors and third party administrators of Employee Benefit Plans. The website's new blog offers news, updates and insights on 401k plans, ERISA plans and other employee benefit assets from a CPA's perspective.

The blog is authored by Michael Lawrance, CPA and team leader at Salmon Sims Thomas. Lawrance focuses on providing tips and insights for businesses that make it easier to manage 401k plans. "Our goal is to provide a resource for 401k plan managers that will help them succeed and meet their goals for the employee benefit plans they administer," says Lawrance.

"Plan sponsors have a fiduciary obligation to obtain a quality plan audit that meets the federal requirements," added Lawrance. "We assist plan sponsors in meeting that obligation and keep them informed of the latest developments. We are driven to keep plan assets secure and plan sponsors trouble free with the Department of Labor."

Employee Benefit Plan audits is one of several specialized services offered by Salmon Sims Thomas. Headquartered in Dallas, the firm is one of the nation's leading accounting firms offering tax, audit and consulting for postsecondary career schools and colleges, private schools, and nonprofit organizations.
