An IRS Trend: Middle Market Business Audits

Middle market companies may see themselves as somewhat shielded from an IRS audit since the historical audit percentage is about 11.9%. After all, bigger companies have more at stake, right? Well, the answer is increasingly - "wrong." The spotlight is on middle market companies due to the growth in jobs and revenues they add to the economy. And the IRS is shifting its focus as well to the middle market, with the understanding that such companies have the same or additional issues as larger companies.

Internship: A Hands-On Resume Builder

In a competitive post-college job market, those with the most career training get the best jobs. At SST, we appreciate the win-win nature of internships. We hire college students to give them experience in the field of accounting, and we benefit from extra help in working on the most basic tasks.

Our interns get a view of how CPA firms work in both tax and audit situations, and such experience helps them determine a career path 'fit.' Real-world participation at Salmon Sims Thomas complies with the requirements colleges have for internships. We hire juniors or seniors in college who have at least a 3.2 GPA, and who are majoring in accounting with the goal of getting a CPA license.

Interns in the past year included:

Caroline Brooks - Oklahoma State University
Taylor Danielson - Dallas Baptist University
Chase Wright - University of Mary Hardin-Baylor

We are accepting resumes now for our spring internship program. If there is someone you would like to refer, please contact us.
